

We help preserve stories, wisdom, and love — in your distinct voice.

- Being heard is one of the deepest human needs. A legacy film ensures your voice lives on.

One day, family members will treasure being able to hear your stories and insights again, as if you were sitting in the room with them.

Your story matters.
Let it be remembered.

For More Information

With three levels of film depth, research and affordability, we have a type to suit your needs. Check out the website homepage for examples of our work and signature style.

"Steve is a talented and dedicated professional. He created two incredible life history projects for my family, weaving together interviews, old photos, 8mm film, and archival research into beautifully crafted documentaries that will keep our history alive for generations."

-Jake & Danarae Stevens

Your Legacy

Seen, Heard, Remembered

One conversation.

A lifetime preserved.

LIFE IN FULL VIEW

Tell your story your way; how you see things. Convey what viewers should know about you and your family, about people's character and experiences, going back generations.

Your insights to the family narrative provide a bridge from the past to future generations.

Delve into the stories you want to tell; possibly about those no longer with us, the things you found most important in life, your greatest struggles and fondest memories.

YOUR STORY

● FORMATIVE YEARS

Reflect on your childhood memories and what shaped your character.

● LIFE LESSONS & STORIES

Tell us about the challenges you faced, the setbacks you overcame, the things that fascinate you and give you joy, in your voice.

● EMOTIONAL CLOSURE

Say what needs saying. Put your mind to rest.

With the help of family or a friend, we gather your pictures, old film, videos, and archival materials.

We will handle the details of communication and scheduling to ensure your comfort and make the process easy for you.

This helps to ensure the best possible film and keep your experience stress-free and enjoyable.

WHAT IS A LEGACY FILM?

It's a trip down memory lane, going down the road of your family story, rich with detail and discoveries along the way. It's your story, told in your words, for the people you love.

Family History

Stories of family history are shared and passed forward for a sense of family identity. You offer insights and perspective on generations of family. No one sees things quite like you do.

A Comfortable Setting

Filmed interviews take place in convenient locations of your choosing; whatever is best for you. It's a relaxed, laid back environment and the conversation flows freely.

A Treasure for Generations

They say you can't take it with you, but you can definitely leave something behind. A legacy film for the people you love.
